Description:

Evgenii Strizh | Community Partner Evgenii Strizh supports Miami Family Club as a community partner, sponsor, volunteer and creative contributor, assisting in the development of educational and family-oriented initiatives for children and parents. Since 2021, Evgenii has participated in organizing and supporting outdoor educational trips, cultural outings, and nature-based family experiences that promote learning, communication, and social development for children in informal, device-free environments. His involvement helps families access meaningful educational experiences outside traditional classroom settings, including visits to museums, parks, space centers, and nature reserves, encouraging curiosity, creativity, and family engagement through shared learning experiences.

Evgenii's continued participation reflects his commitment to supporting child development, family education, and community-based learning initiatives within the United States.
